Millbrae

When we get too caught up in the busy-ness of the world, we lose connection with one another — and ourselves.
— Jack Kornfield

COLLABORATIVE THINKING

Work is changing. Offices are following. In the new era of productive mobility, there is a growing desire for collaborative spaces that transcend the ordinary. Millbrae captures that desire perfectly.

Inspired by the mid-century designs of Jules Heumann from the Metro archives, Millbrae has been wholly updated for today. Its modern horizontal lines and metal legs contrast appealingly with crafted stitching and classic tufted upholstery details.

The two lines of sofa seating — Contract and Lifestyle — and accompanying tables can be expressed in a variety of settings.

The Contract line features firmer cushioning and a more upright posture for brief but productive interludes. The soft Lifestyle series is designed for the relaxed postures in social officing and residential settings.

Try to relax and enjoy the crisis.
— Ashley Brilliant

WORK WARMED UP

Millbrae's refined horizontal steel base forms a simple modernist foundation for the classically upholstered seating. Generously proportioned and available with any specified upholstery, this is true "crossover" furniture for today's progressive live/work environments.

The true secret of happiness lies in taking a genuine interest in all the details of daily life.

— William Morris

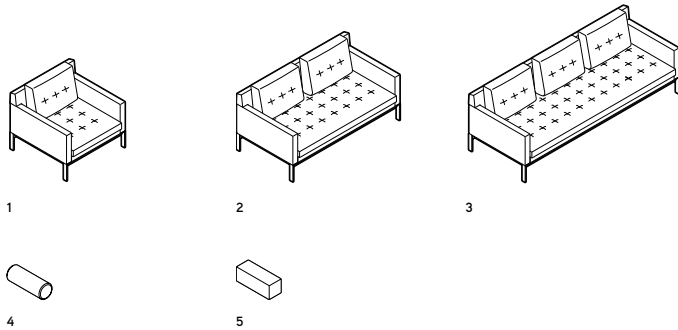

Distinction is in the details. Stitching and tufting details have been efficiently replicated in Millbrae to evoke a custom-crafted feel. The sleekly modern Millbrae occasional table series is elegant and suits a variety of moods with its colored glass palette.
